

1. Annual Leave

Employees are entitled to twenty days of paid annual leave each calendar year.

Leave accrues monthly from the employee's start date at a rate of 1.67 days per month.

Unused annual leave carries over for one quarter into the following year and then expires.

Requests should be submitted at least two weeks in advance through the HR system.

Managers may decline a request only where the business need is documented in writing.

Employees are entitled to twenty days of paid annual leave each calendar year.

Leave accrues monthly from the employee's start date at a rate of 1.67 days per month.

Unused annual leave carries over for one quarter into the following year and then expires.

Requests should be submitted at least two weeks in advance through the HR system.

Managers may decline a request only where the business need is documented in writing.

2. Sick Leave

Up to ten paid sick days are available each year, separate from annual leave.

A medical certificate is required for any absence longer than three consecutive days.

Sick leave does not carry over and has no cash value on leaving the company.

Employees should notify their manager before the start of their working day.

Up to ten paid sick days are available each year, separate from annual leave.

A medical certificate is required for any absence longer than three consecutive days.

Sick leave does not carry over and has no cash value on leaving the company.

Employees should notify their manager before the start of their working day.

3. Parental Leave

Primary caregivers receive sixteen weeks of fully paid parental leave.

Secondary caregivers receive four weeks of fully paid parental leave.

Parental leave may be taken in up to three blocks within the first year.

Employees must give eight weeks notice of their intended start date.

Primary caregivers receive sixteen weeks of fully paid parental leave.

Secondary caregivers receive four weeks of fully paid parental leave.

Parental leave may be taken in up to three blocks within the first year.

Employees must give eight weeks notice of their intended start date.

4. Remote Work

Employees may work remotely up to three days per week with manager approval.

A home office stipend of five hundred dollars is paid once on request.

Core collaboration hours are ten until three in the employee's local time zone.

Remote work from another country requires written approval from People Operations.

Employees may work remotely up to three days per week with manager approval.

A home office stipend of five hundred dollars is paid once on request.

Core collaboration hours are ten until three in the employee's local time zone.

Remote work from another country requires written approval from People Operations.

5. Benefits

Private health insurance begins on the first day of employment.

Pension contributions are matched by the company up to five percent of salary.

Each employee has an annual learning budget of twelve hundred dollars.

Unused learning budget does not roll over into the next year.

Private health insurance begins on the first day of employment.

Pension contributions are matched by the company up to five percent of salary.

Each employee has an annual learning budget of twelve hundred dollars.

Unused learning budget does not roll over into the next year.

6. Code of Conduct

All employees are expected to treat colleagues with respect and courtesy.

Conflicts of interest must be disclosed to a manager in writing without delay.

Confidential company information must not be shared outside the organisation.

Breaches of this code may result in disciplinary action up to dismissal.

All employees are expected to treat colleagues with respect and courtesy.

Conflicts of interest must be disclosed to a manager in writing without delay.

Confidential company information must not be shared outside the organisation.

Breaches of this code may result in disciplinary action up to dismissal.